Dear Pastors and Praying Friends

First of all let me apologize for being late with this letter. It seems that with being confined to the house I would have more time to do stuff like this but I let the time slip away from me and I am sorry.

Winter is almost over even though the cold is still hanging on and there is a threat of snow. We are never more anxious for spring to arrive. With the back surgery I have mostly been confined to the house for the winter due to my recovery. I have just not been able to battle the cold and ice and snow with being barely able to walk. I am thankful that I only missed a couple of services at Church. Kevin, my son, did a good job filling in for me and is still teaching the adult Sunday School class which I normally teach. It is still difficult to stand that long but it is also difficult to do all the studying I need to do for 4 sermons a week. I not only can't stand for long periods of time I can't sit for long periods of time either. I am making progress though. I started physical therapy a couple of weeks ago and the improvement I see with that is that I can now push myself up with my toes on my right leg 10 times instead of just once when I first started. I will take progress anywhere I can get it right now. I am also not having to take the pain meds quite as often and I get around a little bit better. I overdid it yesterday and was pretty sore last night but I didn't hurt myself and I am better as I write this letter.

The Church is doing pretty well considering I have not been able to visit and knock on doors as I normally do. I Baptized two adults Easter Sunday and we are seeing more faithfulness in some of the Church members. They are coming to Church regularly and even getting involved in activities in the Church. It is also good to see some that were born into the Church years ago now teaching classes in the Church. Two very shy young ladies in their late teens were both born into the Church and recently wanted to teach the small children during Junior Church. We were having problems with the older and younger age groups. They are doing a great job. Easter Sunday we also had the Lords supper and a meal afterwards. We had a great day with several visitors. One of the visitors was a member of the House of Representatives in North Dakota. We are supposed to go out and eat with him and his wife soon. Hopefully he will come back to Church. His wife already comes. Another lady who is married to one of our most faithful members has started coming to Church as well. We have had a lot of sickness and it is still ongoing. Unfortunately some have moved on also. One family who was the CEO of the local hospital retired and moved to Utah. We were sorry to see them go but the work still goes on. This spring we will be busy hitting the highways and hedges and going door to door. We have VBS already planned and a Missions conference. The 4th of July parade isn't too far away and we hope that this year we can reach more people for the Lord. Please continue to pray for us and the Church as we continue to preach the gospel to every creature.
