07-08/24 Prayer Letter Update

Howdy all. Can you feel it? I think Fall might be on its way. That's exciting! It's also scary how fast time has flown. How are we already in the fourth quarter of 2024? Happy Mid-Autumn Festival by the way. If you were here I would give you the traditional gift of a box of Moon Cakes. Sometimes, this holiday in Taiwan feels like Christmas with its bustling, cheerful well-wishing and gift giving. I don't even know how many boxes of Moon Cakes and Pineapple Cakes are sitting around at our house right now. Please help me eat some! People are so generous with their Moon Cakes, but maybe a little less generosity would be great too right about now!

The recent VBS at Neipu went well! Logan had a blast! We also had a wonderful praise. There were 2 salvations I wanted to mention. One was the daughter of Christy, a lady if you will recall Kelsie met a few years ago and whose older daughter had helped at the church over the summer. Her younger daughter Shin-Yen, who is 8, trusted Christ at the VBS! The other salvation was Zhu Er, who is 9 years old and has been attending Kelsie's Jr. Church on Sunday Mornings. She is the daughter of the new military family that has been coming. We praise the Lord for these two salvations! Also, Jinde, the man from China I have witnessed to a few times has begun helping once a month at the Saturday Kids Club. He and his wife run an art studio. His son has been attending the Kids Club, and though he is not saved, I will take it as a good sign his wife and he are willing to help! At least that means more exposure. Please continue to pray for him. Also, for Brady. Again, we have had more great talks, and he is really weighing the differences between Taosim and Biblical Christianity. We continue to meet all the time and he has often been around the house. Soon is the Boat-Burning festival in Donggang. If you remember, I went there with Brady the last time (it happens every few years) and he explained much of the beliefs of the locals there where he lives.

I recently had a phenomenal opportunity to make inroads at the village of Laiyi. I don't yet have anything to report, just that we would appreciate your prayers as we continue to seek opportunity and open doors in the Tribal areas of our county. I would again bring up the young man in Virginia who was adopted from the village of Laiyi. He prays for the people of Laiyi, that God would send someone to reach them. All we can say is, "Here am I, send me!" We appreciate you, and may God bless you and your service where God has planted you.

Expecting Great Things,

The Cullers Family
